Notes:

Attendees were presented maps of the existing land uses for their geographic area, and challenged to choose appropriate sites for each of five land use types: Residential, Commercial, Industrial, Institutional, and Parks. The committee spent time locating each of the six land uses within the south central area. When locating the different uses, the group considered the location of existing and proposed developments and thoroughfares, the need for single family residential (large lots sizes) and recreational spaces and transitional buffers, and the desire to preserve the rural/agricultural nature of the area. The task of locating each land use within the jurisdiction was completed.
